In 2001, I began my career in transit and over the last 21 years, I have moved from a front-line employee working as a paratransit scheduler to my current capacity as a General Manager at Waco Transit System. This was not a task I could have accomplished without the mentorship from past and present members of Texas Transit Association. TTA for me, is an organization that aligns members and their organizations with other transit professionals to create pathways to successful transportation outcomes. These pathways come by way of assistance with providing examples of technical documents, discussions about industry challenges and how to navigate them as well as support from a network of transit colleagues that are always willing to assist.

I am honored to currently serve as the VP of small urban systems, and I am humbly requesting your vote to continue to represent small urban systems for a second term. I have confidence in the significant role that Texas Transit Association plays in the development of future leaders and if reelected, I would like to continue to help our membership by connecting individuals who have the desire to mentor, with new transit professionals in our organization as well as continuing to grow the Women in Transit initiative that was launched last fall.

I would like to be your choice, and I am personally asking for your vote to continue to collaborate with each of you to keep the momentum of TTA moving forward!
